TO WARN FOOLS.

Kansas City Journal.—"Why do you always sound that gong as you pass another car?" the motorman was asked. "To try to warn fools who haven't any better sense than to jump off the wrong side of a car backwards or with closed eyes," he replied.

A WESTERN INTERPRETATION.

Kansas City Journal.—"What does Mr. Whitney mean when he speaks of the lower classes?" inquires an Eastern exchange. Perhaps he means the large and increasing part of the population who have been cast down by the loss of employment under Democratic rule.

A STAR FOR A STAR.

Chicago Standard.—The narrowest part of the Strait of Florida, through which the Gulf Stream flows at the rate of five knots in an hour, is fifty miles wide and has a mean depth of 350 fathoms. If this were stopped up the climate of this country in winter would be totally changed.

A KICK FROM THE ORANGE GROVES.

West Hillsboro (Fla.) Mail.—What does the Democratic party stand for? It elected a yellow metal President on a white metal platform, and now Congress is asked to tear the two apart. It is evidently of no use to expect anything of a man because he is elected by the Democratic party. By position, if we must say it, is too indefinite. We can predicate about as much of a Democratic Legislature as we can of a petit jury or a last year's bird nest. What is wanted at this juncture is a prophet to tell us just what Democracy is, apart from the offices and the exuberant profession that is perquisite to get them.

CZAR REED'S GREAT SPEECH.

Commercial Gazette.—Mr. Reed exploded, most effectively, that long continued argument of the silver extremists, that the act of 1873, which, we are told, demonetized silver, was passed by a trick. He referred to The Congressional Globe and showed that the index to the speeches made on that question in the House occupied three columns of the paper. Now we submit that the measure, passed after such an elaborate debate, could not have been the result of a trick; that favorite of the silver men should have worn itself out long ago. But sometimes such a misrepresentation has a lasting quality.

A BLOW AT AMERICAN LABOR.

New York Press.—It will be eighteen months or two years, they say, before the Cleveland-Wilson tariff bill, to be prepared at some "quiet seashore retreat," can go into effect, but in the meantime the Administration will incidentally break down any industry, or part of any industry, that it can. It has just given a blow to the pearl button industry as established, by ruling that imported pearl button blanks, not drilled, shall be assessed at 40 per cent. ad valorem, which is a large reduction from the present rate.

The McKinley Law gave pearl buttons a specific duty for the protection of the American button industry, and admitted to the free list simply the crude pearl shells that we do not find in the United States. The whole process of making pearl buttons is about 90 per cent. labor, and nearly all hand labor at that; but very little remains to be done by American labor after these button blanks, the product of cheap labor in Bohemia, are admitted at an ad valorem rate. Till the Wilson bill is ready, Mr. Cleveland will kindly permit American labor to drill the holes.

KENTUCKY has a National reputation for cutting and shooting snakes and family feuds. Day by day they grow more numerous and are becoming a notorious disgrace to the grand old commonwealth. At picnics, festivals, camp-meetings, in fact, at almost every sort of a gathering there is trouble in the tough element, which usually intrudes upon well-behaved and law-abiding citizens and bloodshed and murder is too frequently the result. Severe punishment seems to have no effect in the way of reformation, and it affords continue as they are it will not be long until Kentucky will have use for two more penitentiaries.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 6th, 1893.—The Stockton Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn.—Gentlemen: It gives me exceeding pleasure to speak of your Antiseptic, as I consider it something wonderful in the way of medicine.

My old servant Albert, who is 72 years old, was very sick with pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble and dropsy. I called in my family physician and gave him every attention, but the doctor finally told me there was no hope, and the only thing that could be done was to make him comfortable until the end. At this point I decided to give him Stockton's Antiseptic, as it seemed to be performing almost miracles for others. It was given in regular doses every three hours and the fever began to decrease from the first dose, and a decided improvement was noticed the first day. In three days he was sitting up and in a week he was back at his work as usual, and is regaining his strength very fast. I conscientiously believe it saved the old man's life. Respectfully yours, FRANK SEANORIT, No. 5 Noel Block.

OUR OWN C. AND O.

A Prosperous Railroad—Summary of Last Year's Big Business.

Indianapolis Journal, August 17th.—M. E. Ingalls, President of the Chesapeake and Ohio, will to-day make public the annual report of that road for the year ending June 30th, 1893. This report will show that there is in the system 1,192 miles of main line and branches; the gross earnings for the year were $19,396,810 47, against $9,044,559 11 the preceding year; operating expenses, $7,132,790 60, against $6,731,731 23; net earnings, $12,264,019 75, against $2,312,828 55 in the year ending June 30th, 1892.

In summing up the business ending June 30th, President Ingalls says:

"Notwithstanding the severe competition and necessarily low rates made by railway lines in the summer and autumn of 1892, the fiscal year just closed has been a very successful one for this company. The gross earnings have increased, on practically identical mileage, 54 per cent., while the operating expenses have decreased over 4 per cent.; although the average rate received on freight and passenger traffic has been a trifle less than in the previous year. For the first time in its history the property has earned something on its common stock, and it is believed that such a result will be satisfactory to the stockholders and be found encouraging for the future. The cost of conducting transportation this year was $3,034,819 94, against $3,046,015 90 a year ago, although the business transported this year was larger than a year ago, viz: 115,565,564 passengers and 1,479,487,919 tons of freight hauled one mile in 1892-93, against 97,003,449 passengers and 1,359,657,261 tons hauled one mile in the previous fiscal year. The average number of train passengers per train mile has increased from thirty-seven to forty-four; and, with the income received from mail and express, the earnings of the passenger trains have increased from 92 cents to $1 per mile.

"The average haul of the freight trains has increased from 239 to 283 tons; and while the rate per ton per mile decreased from 5.36 miles to 5.11 (or 3 per cent.), the average earnings per mile run of freight trains increased from $1.38 to $1.44.

"It is now five years, lacking a few days, since the present management took charge of your property, and they have been five busy years of increase of earnings and increase of plant. The gross earnings have gone from about five to over ten millions, and the net earnings from about seven hundred thousand to three and a quarter millions of dollars.

"The mileage of the company has increased from 777 to 1,192 miles, and a glance at the map will show that the system as it now stands is admirably located for business. Probably no system of railway in the United States is so well adapted to a heavy tonnage, or can be operated so cheaply as can yours. Its grades are substantially all in favor of the traffic, as is most conclusively shown by the fact that the average trainload last year was 283 tons. When it is considered that this exceptionally heavy average trainload was moved with fuel costing only 24 cents per net ton, it must be recognized that the movement of a large traffic here finds its lowest level of cost.

"While the financial depression existing throughout the country may lead to some loss of earnings in the coal and iron traffic of the company, it is believed that with the inauguration of the new steamship line, which will probably start in October next, a large increase of business, to more than offset the loss, can be obtained from the export and import traffic through Newport News.

"As will be seen by the report of the Auditor, the results of the year have enabled the Directors to carry forward to the surplus account something over $400,000. They have authorized the officers of the company to charge to this account $25,000 for the erection and maintenance of a hospital at Clifton Forge for the benefit of disabled employees. The thanks of the company are due to the operating officers and employees for the faithful and successful management of the trains of the company during the past year."

THE CONVENTION

Of the Sunday-Schools of the State Held at Ashland Recently.

The Twenty-eighth Annual Sunday-school Convention of Kentucky was held in the city of Ashland on the 23d to 24th of this month. This convention being wholly inter-denominational, it brought together representative Sunday-school workers from all the leading denominations of the state. All parts of the state were represented. The sessions of the convention were largely attended, and one of the best programs that has been presented in the entire history of the convention was considered.

Professor M. M. Hammill of Illinois, the widely-known Sunday-school expert, was one of the speakers from abroad. His addresses on improved methods in Sunday-school work elicited great interest. "Faith Latimer," one of the justly noted leaders of to-day in primary work, had a place on the program. Many other excellent papers and addresses presented by some of the best known ministers and laymen of Kentucky might be appropriately mentioned did not the limits of this notice prevent. The tabulated results of the past year's work furnish many interesting and encouraging facts. One of these facts specially worthy of mention is that the continued and persistent effort to effect an inter-denominational organization and to hold a convention in every one of the 119 counties in the state has been crowned with success. In this particular, respect Kentucky stands beside the state in which Sunday-school work has reached its highest point, and at the same time is very far in advance of many other states and territories.

It was also shown that the so-called normal work, which is simply an effort to promote better methods of study and teaching, is being entered into heartily in many parts of the state. Along with this much improvement in the management and general work of the Sunday-schools was reported. Those who have been most interested in promoting this work have great reason to believe that an era of wonderfully rapid progress is just opening.

That Sunday-school work in Kentucky has not attained to the fullness of its possibilities is shown by the fact that in the 70 counties of the state, from which reports had been received, of the 38,616 white children of school age only 102,002 are enrolled in the Sunday-schools. In other words, but 26 per cent. of these young people are enrolled in the Sunday-schools. Over against this uninspiring statement may be set the fact that there are 3,409 organized Sunday-schools in the 70 counties mentioned, and that they are earnestly striving to multiply their numbers and efficiency.

With an organization in each of the 119 counties made effective by the earnest efforts of good men who are unselfishly devoting their time and money to this cause, and with the enlarged activity and efficiency of the schools in those counties it is confidently believed that great growth in the Sunday-school army is one of the things of the near future.

The officers of the Kentucky Sunday-school Union for the ensuing year are:

President—Rev. W. C. Condit, Ashland.
Secretary—Miss M. F. Huber, Louisville.
Treasurer—E. N. Woodruff, Louisville.
Chairman Executive Committee—Rev. J. A. McKamy, Louisville.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Condition of Small Crops Throughout Kentucky to Date.

The reports received this week are of the same general tone as those made for the past month or more. Dry and warm days with just moderately cool nights have been the characteristic features. Many parts of the state received rain on the 25th and 26th, but being local in character it is difficult to determine just what extent of country was covered by it. The amount received appears to have been quite uniform, and averages about half an inch in the districts where rain was reported. Generally speaking, these rains were more frequent in the Western and Central counties of the state. Many correspondents in the sections named state that the ravages of the drouth were partially arrested, and that the general prospect is somewhat improved, but the average tone of reports received is not encouraging. The crop outlook appears to be somewhat better in the Western counties than in other sections of the state.

Corn has probably suffered more seriously from the drouth than any other crop. The reports relative to its condition are discouraging almost without exception. Estimates of various correspondents representing all sections of the state indicate that it will be cut from one-third to one-half. Some few localities which have been favored with the local rains of the past month report a much better state of affairs, but they represent only a limited area. The chief damage seems to be confined to the early planted portion of the crop. Good, drenching rains will do much toward restoring that which was planted late. Grass-hoppers are reported to be working serious damage to corn in Barren and several adjoining counties.

While reports indicate that tobacco is holding its own against the drouth better than other crops, it too has suffered seriously, particularly the early planted portion. The late crop is better and will be greatly improved with good rains. Some cutting is reported in Fayette, Bourbon and Garrard counties, and the quality is stated to be good, though not up to the average. As in the case of corn, the general prospect for the crop appears to be better in the Western counties than in other sections of the state.

Fall plowing for grain is being seriously retarded by the drouth, as the dry, hard soil renders this work impracticable.

Pastures are very short in all parts of the state, and the condition of live stock is consequently below the standard. Many farmers are feeding fodder, and in some localities the water in streams is so low that it is necessary to haul it from a distance.

Garden crops, in common with others, are suffering from the effects of the drouth. Melons and sweet potatoes will be very short.

Late fruits of all kinds are short in quantity and poor in quality.

Good rains of sufficient duration to thoroughly drench the soil will materially assist all late crops, but the majority of the earlier ones, particularly early corn, have suffered such serious damage that the most favorable conditions will not restore them.
